

Work Around for Faulty Watermarks in Word

When you are creating a watermark in Word and using one of the “Printed Watermark” options which places predefined words (actually using WordArt), sometimes the words appearing are fragmented (letters are missing in the word). You might want the word “Confidential” but when it actually prints, it only has the letters C N F E L appearing instead of the entire word CONFIDENTIAL.

Try this: Click on Format, choose Background, choose Printed Watermark and you’ll be in the dialogue box shown below. Take the check out of the “Semitransparent” and the word will appear with all the letters.

Uncheck this to make all the letters of the word of the watermark appear
